Fear lyrics julius

♪ I am not a member of the Commission. ♪ ♪ I'm sorry,fear, why © I'm always Caesar. Come to my right, why © This ear is deaf, and tell me what you really think of him. CAESAR (which speaks so that only ANTONIO can hear) I wish it was bigger! But I'm not afraid of him. Yet, if I were able to fear anyone, Cassius would be the first man I would avoid. He reads a lot, is a keen observer, and sees the hidden motives in what men do. He doesn't like to play like you do, Antony. He doesn't listen to music. He rarely smiles, and when he smiles, he does it in a self-mocking way, as if he despises himself for smiling at all. Men like him will never be comfortable while someone places themselves higher than them, and so they are very dangerous. I'm telling you what should be feared, not what I fear, because © After all, I'm Caesar. Come to my right, why © This ear is deaf and tell me what you really think of Cassius. Senne! Execute CAESAR and all its trains, except the Trumpets CASCA game. CAESAR dates all of his followers except CASCA. CASE 215 (in BRUTUS) You pulled me to the cape. Talk to me? You stuck your cape in me. You want to talk to me? Brutus Ay, Casca. Tell us what made Caesar look so sad today. Yes, Casca. Tell us what happened today that made Cesare so serious. Because you were with him, weren't you? But you were with him, weren't you? BRUTUS 220! should not then ask Casca what he had been able to do. BRUTUS If I were, I wouldn't have to ask you what happened. HOUSE WHY ©. There was a crown that offered him; and, being offered to him, he put it with the back of his hand, so; and then the people fell a-shouting. HOUSE He was offered a crown, and he pushed it away with the back of his hand, so, and then people began to shout. Now that they're gone, you know, the truth you can tell; were sacrificial lambs in the marketplace sold-- Julius and Ethel, Julius and Ethel. Now that they're gone, you know, the truth can come out; They were never found guilty beyond reasonable doubt-- Julius and Ethel, Julius and Ethel. The people said they were guilty at the time; Some said there was no crime, Julius and Ethel, Julius and Ethel. People look at this couple with contempt and doubt, but they loved each other until the moment they controlled Julius and Ethel, Julius and Ethel. Eisenhower was the president, Senator Joe was the king; Until you said nothing you could say anything-- Julius and Ethel, Julius and Ethel. Now some have blamed the system, some have blamed the man; Now that it's over, no one knows how it started-- Julius and Ethel, Julius and Ethel. Every kingdom must fall, including the Third Reich; Man can do what he likes, but not as much as he likes-- Giulio and Ethel, Giulio and Ethel. Well, they say they gave away the secrets of the atomic bomb, as if no one else could think of it, wouldn't be here today, Julius and Ethel, and Ethel. Someone says the fifties was the age of great romance; I say that's just a lie, it was when fear had you in a trance -- Julius and Ethel, Julius and Ethel.
