Play store highest download app

How to download in play store app. Which app is most downloaded in play store.

The easiest way to distribute an Android app is via Google Play Store. It is not the only method of distribution, but it is the easiest way to reach millions of potential users. Publish your first app in the Play Store is not difficult, with some suggestions and pointers you can have your app ready for download in a few hours ahead at no time. Google has a $ 25 registration fee from $ 25 that you need to pay before you can upload an app. The starting point is the Google Play developer console. A Dashboard dedicated to Google for developers that lets you manage your apps in the Play Store. Google has a $ 25 recording fee that you need to pay before you can upload an app. Google says that encourages superior quality products, ie less spam. If you don't like the idea, then helps to watch Apple and Microsoft policies for their app stores. Apple charge $ 99 a year. Microsoft fees between $ 12 and $ 99 per year, depending on the type of account. They must also be in a supported country to distribute apps. Countries such as the United States, the United Kingdom, Canada and Australia are in the approved Google list, but countries like New Zealand and Singapore Aren Aren T. Furthermore, some of the recent additions to the European Union such as Romania , Slovakia, Å ç and Slovenia do not make it to the Google list. After signing and paid the registration fee, you need to complete the details of the account, including the developer name Å ç ã, ~ "the name displayed on Google Play Store. Once everything is done, you may have to wait a little officially can take up to 48 hours for your Google Play developer registration to be completely processed. This point is probably worth taking a look at the Google Play Policy Apps center the help center for Androidã ç developers to avoid loading content that is in violation of the terms and conditions of Google Play. All apps that violate terms and conditions will be suspended from the store and repeated violations can lead to the termination of your developer account . It probably looks worse than what is actually. If you are creating original and well-educated apps, then you don't really have to worry. Before loading your app to ne Gozio of play You have to prepare some things. One of the questions needed to respond during the publication process concerns the evaluation of your App's maturity. Google has four levels of evaluation: all, low expiration, average expiry and high expiration. Google has a guide to help you evaluate the content of the App for Google Play. Basically if your app includes references to alcohol, tobacco, drugs, gambling or violence, will have to bring one of the major ratings of maturity. The apps with a slight comic violence must carry the minimum rating of the deadline. The list of gaming stores is probably one of the most important elements to promote your app. You must also look at the final size of your app. Google only allows apps of 50 MB or not to be published as a single APK file. All apps that exceed the size must use API API APK Open Android. With it you can build your app so that it is downloaded up to an additional 4 GB from Google servers. On most devices, Google Play downloads extra data simultaneously to the app. In some cases, however, the app must download files from Google Play when it starts. The Play Store list is probably one of the most important elements, to promote your app. A list of poor play shops will behave in a few downloads and probably negative comments. Your Play Store list must be engaging, informative and friendly. To help you attract users, Google allows you to provide a variety of promotional, videos and screenshots that will appear in the list of apps on the playback store. Because these graphs are a fundamental part of a list of successful game stores, Google says that "you should consider having a professional produces them for you." "The graphics of the features must be bold, vivid, funny And tempting. The IL Graphics you need are screenshots. You must provide at least two phone screenshots. However, for the best results, you can upload 8 screenshots (the most allowed by Google). You should also load shots of your app screen running on a 7-inch tablet and a 10-inch tablet. Google instructions say that "for your app to submit to the list Å ç ã, ~ ã" Designed for the tablet list "in the playback store, you need to load at least one 10-inch screenshot and one of 10 inches . ã, ~ Together with the screenshots needed to prepare an Hi-Res icon (512 x 512), a function graphics (1024 x 500) and a promotional graph (180 x 120). The last two are marked as optional, but you should really consider them as mandatory. Without a feature image your app cannot be present anywhere within Google Play. Example of a good image in the foreground. Example of a good image in the foreground. The graphics of features must be bold, vivid, fun and tempting. It should use colors that stand out on simple wallpapers and should promote your brand. It should not be heavy text and nor should be overloaded with graphic details. Something more of the name of the app and maybe some descriptive words will be lost on smaller screens. Price setting to free it is permanent, you can not change it to pay once published. The final part of the game store list is to set the price of your app and where countries should be distributed. If the app is free, simply just point out as free. However it is worth noting that establishing the price for free is permanent, you can't change it to pay once published. For paid apps you need to set the price. You can simply set the price in USD and then allow Google to calculate prices for each of the local markets, or you can set prices individually for different currencies. The latter option gives you the flexibility to regulate local prices based on market conditions and exchange rates. It is satisfied with your Play Store list you can upload the APK file and click the Publish button. It takes a few hours to appear the app. The publication process is automatic and is not too long before your app becomes available for download. If you load your first Android app, the Android Authority team wants to wish you every success! If this is your first smartphone or just your first use of Android, there is a lot to love here, and everything starts to find some apps to fill the new phone (or tablet) with. Google Play is the App Store that Google is managed, and it is also an important piece of security of Android as it scans the apps before and after downloading and monitoring for unusual activity. It can be a bit overwhelming when Google Play for the first time, but don't worry, we're here to help you get started! If you know the name of the app you are looking for or in mind a specific app type, you can look for it rather than navigating through the app categories. Touch the Google Play icon on the home screen. Touch the white search bar at the top of the screen. Enter the name of the app (or the type of app) you are looking for. Touch the search icon on the keyboard (it should be in the Enter key position). If you are not sure what you want, or your search results don't help you (don't worry, happens to all of us), there are other ways to find apps on Google Play. How to browse the apps in Google Play You can browse the main Google Play graphs to try to find a new app you want to install. Touch the Google Play icon on the home screen. Tap Top Charts under the Home tab. Now Ready to browse the graphs for new apps. Scroll to the left and right among the graphs for the utmost free, top paid, coarse, the new free new, the new new paid and the trend. You can also browse Google Play by Category. Touch the Google Play icon on your Home screen. Touch categories under the home / games cards. Touch the category you want to browse. Now, some categories of the apps are just a series of top tops Rendered to that category of app, but other categories have presented apps and sub-categories in addition to the best graphs for that category. Once you've found one you like, it's time to install it. How to download free apps touch an app in the search results or categories. Touch Read more and look through the description and reviews of the app to make sure the app is right for you. Tap Install. The download app and install now, usually in a few seconds depending on how large or small. If you are on a device that runs a previous version of Android, you will need to accept an app's permissions before downloads. Read permissions before clicking on. Once the installed app is completed, an Open button will appear in the same place the previously busy installation button. How to buy apps for a fee The process for buying a reacted app is just a hair other than a free download, and go like this: it's up to an app you want to buy. Tap the price to view payment options. Your default payment method will be displayed. If you want to change the payment method, tap the arrow down next to the current payment method. Touch payment methods. Touch one of your established payment methods. If you don't have one, you will be asked to add a credit card, a PayPal account or carrier billing. Tap Buy. Confirm your Google Play password or use your fingerprint to confirm your purchase. Payment is processed and download will begin. Tocca continues to close the window. Apps need updates from time to time, and if you need to update your apps manually, here's how you do it. Scroll to the left edge of the screen or touch the three line menu icon in the upper white bar to open the menu. Touch my apps and my games. The app that needs updates will appear at the top of the list. To update a single app, tap the Update box next to the app. It's upgrading everyone to update all the apps that need updates. Rather than manually update the apps, which is easy to forget, Google Play is set to automatically update the apps for you when you're on Wi-Fi. If you prefer to automatically install updates even when they are on cellular data Å ç ã, ~ "or not automatically update all Å ç ã, ~" you can easily change the setting. Scroll to the left edge of the screen or touch the three line menu icon in the upper white bar to open the menu. Scroll down and touch settings. Tap Update App Update.
